

Boris K

I was born in the Soviet Union and raised in New York City. I joined the Army Reserves in 2000 and came on active duty in the summer of 2002. I then served as a member of a Special Operations Team Alpha (SOT-A.) While serving on the SOT-A, I completed schools, including SERE-C, the Basic Airborne Course, the Static Line Jumpmaster Course, the Emergency Medical Technician-Basic Course and Combat Medic Advanced Skill Training. I am currently a full-time student at a major university on the west coast where I am working towards a Bachelor of Arts degree in Near East Studies. When my degree is complete, I plan to return to the national security community.

I request this bio to be published on the Lint Center for National Security Studies, Inc website with my name appearing as follows: "Boris K."
